At intelitek, we are also keenly anticipating the release of our new Robotics Engineering Curriculum (REC), the first semester of which will be available in December 2005. This robust, yearlong two-semester course uses the Vex robotics system as a tool to reinforce the content and provide hands on learning associated with each topic. This makes it ideal for any high school robotics class. The curriculum can be delivered online and a complete student management system is also available.

We look forward to an exciting season of the FIRST Vex Challenge, and hope all competitors enjoy a successful year.
